Unlocking Your Full Business Potential

Intex South Asia is the definitive international sourcing platform for the textile and apparel industry.

As South Asia's premier sourcing event, we have been at the forefront of connecting manufacturers, suppliers, designers and brands worldwide with a global audience and facilitated many international partnerships since 2015.

Over 2,500 leading suppliers and 55,000+ buyers from 40+ countries have leveraged this successful platform to forge global connections, discover new opportunities, and stay ahead in the business of textiles and fashion.

Our events present a dynamic showcase of the latest trends, innovations, and business opportunities, empowering industry professionals to unlock global growth and innovation across traditional and new markets.

As the annual calendar event for South Asia's Textile & Apparel industry across the key textile and apparel countries of India, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh, Intex South Asia is endorsed by major Government bodies, Chambers of Commerce and Industry Associations across the world.

Bangladesh

25-26-27 June, 2025

ICCB, Dhaka

Intex Bangladesh has a proven track record in Bangladesh, successfully connecting over 820 textile companies with 15,000+ trade buyers from Bangladesh and overseas markets since 2019. The show enables the industry to connect with key players and forge lucrative partnerships, playing a key role in providing a platform for both large-scale and MSMEs to bridge the gap in international sourcing for the apparel industry.

Intex Bangladesh brings together a concentrated collection of industry suppliers from across the world whose products, services and solutions assist Bangladesh's RMG industry to increase value-addition, product diversification, and eco-friendly practices to remain competitive and become sustainable. The expo also strengthens intra-regional trade to boost manufacturing and exports for the industry as a whole.

The show has been quite good for us. Over the past two days there have been many agents and buyers showing interest and talking to us. We have connected with them and hopefully we can do business with them in the future. The buyer quality is really good at this show. They have high standards and so do we, so I think we can handle business here.

Gerson Agcaoili, Salesperson,
LVW Group Co. Ltd, Thailand

This is our second time exhibiting at Intex Bangladesh and this year I have observed many more buyers than last time, so I can see that the market is growing faster. My experience here is good. In fact, we are extremely busy just collecting visiting cards of the buyers who are visiting our booth. After this fair, I shall connect and visit their offices to discuss further business with them.

This is the 4th time we are participating in Intex Bangladesh. The show has always been encouraging for us and we get good walk-ins. We are already doing nominated business in Bangladesh and yes, overall, we see good opportunity. Sustainability is something which has more focus now-a-days and since Sulochana is a company focused on sustainability, I think there are a lot of opportunities and everyone over here is very interested and keen to look at and understand our sustainable activities which is a great thing.

We are the largest manufacturers of knitted fabrics in Sri Lanka with 40% market share and are supplying fabrics to the top 5 to 6 global brands that are sourcing from Sri Lanka. At Intex, we have found a useful forum for our company to be known internationally. This exhibition has been fruitful for us as from day one we have seen a lot of interest from visitors attending the show who are specially coming to visit our stall.

Sri Lanka
6-7-8 August, 2025
BMICH, Colombo

Intex Sri Lanka is a trailblazer, facilitating business collaborations, fostering innovation, and promoting trade opportunities across the textile value chain. Since 2015, it has been the pioneering sourcing platform for the Sri Lankan textile and apparel industry.

With the country's garment exports touching $ 5.95 billion in 2022, Intex looks to support the apparel sector through the presence of international exhibitors eager to engage with Sri Lankan partners for continued growth.

From the latest trends, technologies, and innovations in the industry to sustainable practices, eco-friendly materials and cutting-edge software solutions, Intex

Sri Lanka provides vital insights to businesses enabling them to stay ahead in an ever-evolving market.

We are one of the leading denim fabric mills in Pakistan mainly working with USA buyers but we have also been working in Sri Lanka with Hirdaramani, Orit Apparels, Indochine, etc. We are here to connect with the domestic and export market buyers in Sri Lanka. The exhibition is really good for us and the high level of customer interest and footfall has been very promising.

Artistic Fabric Mills, Pakistan

We are a nylon yarn spinning company and we actually have a few customers here, but this is the first time we are exhibiting at Intex Sri Lanka. I am pleased to say that in the past 2 days, we have found many new customers interested in our new technology dope dyed-yarn which is a sustainable and eco-friendly product. With the positive response we are getting, we are very happy to be here and hope to come back next year.

South Asia

The Global Textile and Apparel Powerhouse

South Asia is the undisputed epicenter of the global fashion industry. With a combined export value exceeding $95 billion, the region is a manufacturing powerhouse, producing garments for over 80% of the world's top brands. Beyond basic garments, South Asia is redefining fashion with innovative designs, premium fabrics, and sustainable practices.

A skilled workforce, coupled with strategic geographic location and robust infrastructure, make South Asia a cost-effective and efficient production hub. Strategic trade deals and a booming domestic market fueled by the world's youngest population is empowering South Asia to become a $150 billion apparel market.

South Asia is more than a manufacturing hub; it's a strategic partner in shaping the future of fashion.

Bangladesh

25-26-27 June, 2025 | ICCB, Dhaka

The world's 2nd largest apparel manufacturer exported apparel worth $47 billion in 2023 from its 4,600+ apparel factories. From Jan-Mar 2024, Bangladesh imported raw material worth $3.84 billion comprising raw cotton, synthetic/viscose fiber, synthetic/mixed yarn, cotton yarn, textile fabrics and accessories for garments while exporting RMG worth $13.8 bn in the same period. 90% of local demand for MMF textiles of 980 tons per day is imported. With Bangladesh importing 4bn metres of cotton/non-cotton fabrics per year worth $10 bn, there is growing scope for imports of RMG raw materials from natural to MMF fibres, yarns, fabrics as well as accessories, dyes and chemicals.

Sri Lanka

6-7-8 August, 2025 | BMICH, Colombo

Sri Lanka's Textile & Apparel Industry is the largest export sector of the country, exporting apparel worth $4.8 bn in 2023. Sri Lanka imported knit / crochet fabric worth $886.7 million, overall cotton products worth $666 million, fabrics (especially high-value synthetic and blended fabrics) worth $2 billion. Polyester, nylon and other synthetic yarns also constitute a major part of imported raw materials.
